Auditor. or $11 to $12.50 per bale. This has occurred within less than two months' time, with no change in the indicated size of the crop from what was clearly apparent in April, only a partial resumption of business among the mills, and outlook for the new crop of fully 10 per cent. better than a year ago. This sharp recovery in so short a time seems to prove the contention frequently made in these reports, when pessimism was so rampant, that prices were then forced at least 1 cent per pound lower than the legitimate supply and demand conditions warranted. The stocks of cotton at Liverpool in April, at New Orleans and also in the market, were relatively as low, in pro-market, were relatively as low, in pro-portion to last year's stocks, as they Crop Outlook.

There is no doubt the crop is now recovering in many sections from the recent bad weather conditions, especially in the Mississippi Valley States. Oklahoma and Texas. The only sections where complaints are now com-

BUFFALO, N. Y... June 21.—Mrs. George Kent was bitten forty times by a pet buildog and her eleven-year-old daughter. Ethel Kent, was also badly bitten, when the animal went on a rampage yesterday.

Three men, attracted by the screams of the woman, kicked the dog to death, and its body was sent to the Health Department for examination.

Some one rang the Kent doorbell, and the dog became inturiated. Ethel tied to quiet him, and he sprang at the girl and fastened his teeth in her shoulder. Mrs. Kent went to the girl and fastened his teeth in her shoulder. Mrs. Kent went to the girl and fastened his teeth in her shoulder. Mrs. Kent went to the girl and fastened his teeth in her shoulders are the daughter tried to pull the dog away from her mother, the beast sunk his teeth into Mrs. Kent's shoulders and arms forty times.

The plucky child kept her grip on the dog, and finally dragged him away from her parent. Passersby ran into the house and kicked the animal to from her parent. Passersby ran into the house and kicked the animal to death. Mrs. Kent and her daughter are in a serious condition.

July 1st in the New York trust companies' reserve requirements, which will call for approximately $20,000,000 and an expected further recall of United States Treasury deposits with the banks, have equally falled to disturb confidence in the money prospect. It is notable that the bond market has flattened out, in spite of the redundant state of the money market. This is attributed to the recent large supply of new issues.
